Paper procedure

Abstracts and papers are submitted via the conference website www.misbe2011.nl. Accepted papers will be published in the conference proceedings, if at least one of the authors will be attending the conference. All correspondence with authors will pass through the conference website by the conference organisers. This includes the entire submission and review process of the papers. Submitted papers will be assigned to reviewers for the specific workshop theme by the conference organisers.

Workshop format

For the workshop a selection of accepted papers will be invited to be presented depending on the workshop programme. The aim of the programme is to provide opportunity for discussion between all authors and participants at the workshop. The exact programme for the workshop will be determined in due course based on the papers received.

If you want to submit your paper for the Supply Chain Integration and Collaboration workshop, please note this on your abstract.

Deadline for abstract submission is extended till 22 October 2010
